

Read-Aloud Picture Books: Women's History Month

The author Alice Walker said, "Storytelling is how we survive, when there's no feed, the story feeds something, it feeds the spirit, the imagination. I can't imagine life without stories, stories from my parents, my culture. Stories from other people's parents, their culture. That's how we learn from each other, it's the best way. That's why literature is so important, it connects us heart to heart."

There are so many books that allow us to connect to the many women, fictional and real, who inspire us! If you like having books read aloud to you with pictures, check out these videos:

Caroline Starr Rose reads her picture book, "A Race Around the World: The True Story of Nellie Bly and Elizabeth Bisland".

Diane Santiago reads "That Book Woman" by Heather Henson, illustrated by David Smalls.

#KidTimeStoryTime #SheSpokeReadAloud
She Spoke | Nonfiction Books for Kids Read Aloud | Women's History Month

"She Spoke" read aloud for children is a wonderful nonfiction book for kids that features Dr. Jane Goodall, Susan Shown Harjo, Hilary Rodham Clinton, Dr. Temple Grandin, Justice Sonia Sotomayor and Malala Yousafzai and more!

Author Susan Hood reads some poems from her book, "Shaking Things Up: 14 Young Women Who Changed the World!"

"Equality's Call", by Deborah Diesen, read by NWHM Ambassador, actress Logan Browning.

You can also find a list of the 32 best books for Women's History Month as chosen by teachers that you can read with at:

www.weareteachers.com/womens-history-month-books/

Source: www.lessonimpossible.com/blog/womens-history-month

